PREFACE.

In presenting this, our fifth volume of the Des Moines City Directory, to its patrons and the public, it is the hope of the compiler that it will prove the valuable book of reference which it is intended to be. It has been with pleasure that we have labored to compile a work representing a city which is making more substantial progress from year to year than any other in Iowa. Of this, no one who has given the subject a careful investigation can entertain doubts.

The population has wonderfully increased during the past two years, now numbering over of twenty-two thousand. We congratulate our fellow citizens upon the rapid development of the business, commercial and manufacturing interests. A city which for beauty of situation is scarcely rivaled in our glorious commonwealth, presenting advantages in all its great industrial aspects, exceeded by none. In the energy, thrift, moral status and intellectual character of her people, she cherishes a just and laudable pride.

The work contains a complete resident and business directory, a full list of churches, educational institutions, orders, societies, city, county and State officers, also a complete postoffice directory of Iowa. Pains and expense have not been spared to make it the most perfect directory our city has ever had, and creditable alike to city, patrons and compiler. Thanks to all who have in any way encouraged the Directory. Hoping that Des Moines may speed its way forward as rapidly in the future as in the past, until it becomes what it is destined soon to be, the metropolis of Iowa if not of the northwest, we bid all a kind farewell until next year.

Yours respectfully

THE COMPILER.

We have but little space in which to speak of our city, historically or otherwise, yet we feel that something should be said of the present business, commercial and manufacturing interests; coal mines, railroads, natural advantages as a commercial center, future prospects, etc.

The causes which have contributed to the rapid and solid growth of Des Moines are not difficult to discern. Situated in the heart of the Des Moines valley, at the confluence of the Des Moines and Raccoon rivers, surrounded by one of the richest agricultural regions of the whole country; Nature seems to have indicated the spot where the metropolis of Iowa, if not of the North-West, should be located.

No city in Iowa presents so good a prospect for the future as Des Moines, no other gives evidence of more enterprise. The city is improving rapidly, both in the erection of handsome and comfortable residences, and solid, imposing and beautiful business blocks. We learn from our contractors and builders that there has been an unusually large number of buildings erected the past season, and that there is as great a demand at present, and, before the season is over, there will be as much building done as in any year previous.

The coming year will undoubtedly be one of unusual activity in building, and will witness a large and rapid growth of our city. The population has wonderfully increased during the past two years, now numbering twenty-two thousand, one hundred and sixty-four; these figures we present with pride, showing the increase in population since the publication of our last Directory, yet they are reliable, and are given with no desire to please those who may be ambitious to triumph over neighboring cities, but to place before the public the truth. While this increase has been rapid, it has been nevertheless healthy, and has brought to the city a population exceedingly desirable.

Des Moines has every element necessary to make it a great manufacturing center; coal is abundant and cheap, there being some fifteen different mines operated, employing from eight hundred to one thousand men. An inexhaustible water power is here, which should be more extensively utilized, and the success of the factories already established, and the rapid settlement of the county tributary to the city, are warrants for the establishment of many more. We take pleasure in noticing that Des Moines manufactures are equal in appearance and quality to the best products of eastern manufacture.

Des Moines has the following railroads: The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific; the Keokuk and Des Moines; the Des Moines and Fort Dodge; the Des Moines, Indianola and Missouri; the Des Moines, Winterset and Southwestern; and the Des Moines and Minneapolis, Narrow Gauge.

Our city is fast becoming a railroad center, the Indianapolis of the west. There are quite a number of projected roads, among which we would mention the following: The Des Moines, Osceola and St. Joseph, narrow gauge, a portion of which will be built this year; the Des Moines and Ashton, the tax for which has been voted, thus insuring its early completion. There is a narrow gauge talked of from Des Moines to Knoxville, thence southward. A line between Des Moines and Council Bluffs, called the Des Moines Western, has been surveyed, passing Perry, and through the State midway between the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific and the Chicago and Northwestern railroads, with a good prospect of its being put through at no very distant day. The Des Moines and Minneapolis company are pushing their line through to Minneapolis. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific company expect to finish the branch now completed to Knoxville, from that point to Indianola, giving us still another line. Also, we understand that the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy intend running a branch line from some convenient point west of Ottumwa to Des Moines; this done, Des Moines is the focus for direct lines leading north, east, south and west, and connecting with the largest cities in all parts of the country.

The home insurance companies should have special mention. The Equitable Life takes rank as one of the safest, most thoroughly solvent institutions in the land. It has not been affected in the least by any of the financial crises. It is now in its new home, Equitable Block, Fifth St., corner Post Office Place. Hoyt Sherman, President; J. S. Polk, Secretary.

The Hawkeye Fire, E. J. Ingersoll, President; A. Howell, Secretary.

The State Fire, John A. Elliott, President; Matthew Long, Secretary.

The above insurance companies are perfectly sound and reliable. As an evidence of this, we find them endorsed by our best business men and wealthiest citizens.

At present the west division of the city is the largest, and contains many fine, substantial business blocks, as well as beautiful residences. Among the principal buildings we notice the United States Court House and Post Office, the Iowa In-

Industrial Exposition building, the Des Moines University, and a number of fine Public School buildings, Moore's Opera House, and the Academy of Music.

The East side can boast of a number of handsome business blocks, and elegant residences also. Among the public buildings, we notice the new Capitol building, which, when finished, is estimated to cost about three million dollars, and it is thought will be the finest State House in the United States. A fine Opera House, built this year by C. G. Lewis, and several elegant Public School buildings are prominent among the public edifices. This side of the river is building up rapidly, and her business men are prosperous, having, east of the city, one of the finest agricultural regions in the country to support it.

South Des Moines, containing as it does our largest coal mines, is rapidly building up. The country back of this part of the city is not surpassed in agricultural wealth. The bluffs here present some of the most magnificent views in or about Des Moines. Live business men are taking advantage of the opportunities afforded here. A new Public School building graces this side, also a new building has been erected for church purposes, where union services are held regularly under the care of Dr. E. R. Hutchins.

We bespeak for this part of the city, as well as the others, a bright future.

In the vicinity of Des Moines are many attractive resorts, and numberless views of picturesque scenery. Our city is not only attractive because of its beauty, but the statistics of mortality as given by our city sexton, prove it one of the most healthful cities in the country. The number of interments for the year 1876, was, adult males, sixty-three; females, fifty-eight; children, two hundred and two. Deducting from the above, sixty-five, which is the estimate for non-residents of the city, we have two hundred and sixty-one as the number interred in all the cemeteries in 1876. In view of this showing, our mortality statistics will compare favorably with those of any city of equal population anywhere.

Our rich farming land, which is the foundation of wealth, can never be moved. Our advantages are therefore permanent, and not accidental or subject to other laws than the laws of nature.

It will be well for capitalists, and particularly for men with moderate means, desiring to acquire rapidly, to give close attention to the attraction which Des Moines possesses over any city in the West.

A NEW MACHINE.—The No. 8 has all the desirable points that can be claimed for any of its competitors, while the inventor has avoided the objectionable features of other machines. It will sew equally well the heaviest or lightest goods, and from one to the other without change of tension. It is the simplest and easiest to handle; runs easily, quietly and rapidly. It is without a rival for the family or the workshop.

BEN. J. BARTLETT,*ARCHITECT,

—AND—

SUPERINTENDENT OF BUILDINGS,

206 Fourth St., Art Block,

DES MOINES, IOWA.

The liberal patronage I have received in the State of Iowa during the last three years, and the increasing demand in the State for the services of a Competent Architect in the erection of both Public and Private Buildings, who will secure Economical and Thorough Construction, combined with Modern Architecture, has induced me to remove my office to the city of Des Moines. I shall be pleased to confer with any parties who may contemplate the erection of new buildings the coming season, and believe it will be for their interest to do so.
